Jean Gabriel

Founder
Buying.com CEO

Jean Marie Gabriel, an entrepreneur with a great vision, is the Founder & CEO of Buying.com. Packed full of passion and a zeal to do something different, Jean came up with the idea of Buying.com platform for its affiliated company named Dropshipper.com. Under her leadership, Buying.com is passing through a stunning transformation from a start-up to a major profitable venture. With lots of successful and groundbreaking business ventures, Jean has demonstrated an unmatched entrepreneurial mindset and foresight that would take Buying.com to its apex. She initiated the acquisition of Snapforce.com to accelerate the experience Buying.com provides. With a keen interest in the tech and IT sectors, she led the foundation of another innovative concept i.e. 50.com; one of the fastest-growing web hosting platforms. Besides, her e-commerce project named Mobile Ready Hosting was sold at a big margin. She also leveraged upon the growing market of aesthetics and beauty with a startup formed called dermatology.com. Her pioneering business model for serving non-insured patients seeking cosmetic surgeons' services, named plasticsir-geons.com, was featured and applauded in various publications. Her e-commerce platform named auction.com, turned out to be a close competitor to eBay.
